

5 benefits of REMOTE PRODUCTION

SAVE COSTS

With a remote production solution, you reduce travel costs such as hotel expenses and transportation during the stay. Also there's not as much fragile equipment to bring to the venue, which means your setup time increases.

CENTRALIZE RESOURCES

The editing process is managed at a centralized production facility. Working in a more familiar and controlled environment allows more flexibility and the ability to create content that's higher quality.

INCREASE PRODUCTIVITY

Two events can be produced within the same day. As you don't need to actually travel from venue to venue, and the same equipment can be re-used, you maximise time and increase production workflows.

MONETIZE YOUR CONTENT

Remote production enables you to have dedicated camera feeds for delivery across various screens: you can produce more enriched content that can be monetized.

LOW LATENCY

Just like traditional live production, the remote solution offers very low delays. The central team and the on-site team communicate in real time, allowing adjustments to be made with no delays.
